

'Someone Did It'

NILES CHARGES LIBRARY ARTICLES WERE SIDETRACKED

Selectman Paul Niles, yesterday afternoon publicly charged that Articles, intended for the Annual Town Meeting, for a new public library, had been seemingly deliberately withheld from that Town Meeting.

The statement was issued after an exchange in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night.

The Town Crier, on February 9th reported that as of the week previous in a Library Board meeting that Mrs Norton of the Board of Library Trustees reported that she had talked with the Town Counsel about three articles for the annual Town Meeting, but she did not know if they had been completed.

The statement by Mr Niles follows:

Last Monday evening at the Selectmen's meeting I was refused the right to speak publicly on matters affecting a new library. A majority of the present Board of Selectmen would not discuss serious issues about this project.

The temporary Town Manager, Mr. Melzar, has not reappointed one of the Library Trustees whose term expired this month. This former member asked me as a Selectman to find out what the 'new' plans and 'new' approaches were that supposedly were the reasons for his not being reappointed.

The other members of the Board of Selectmen as well as the temporary Town Manager refused to consider these questions. The temporary Town Manager did state that the person had been an 'off horse' who is always out by himself in the minority. This apparently is a term used by those familiar with the horse and buggy days to indicate a person who has a mind of his own. Mr. Melzar's statement that this person was in the minority is not correct.

The facts are that late last fall, with four of the six members of the Library Trustees present, it was voted three to one that a particular site be tentatively selected for a new library. The site was one that had been recommended by a professional consultant to the Planning Board and was also approved by them. The School Committee had been consulted since it is next to an elementary school and had given their permission to explore the feasibility of erecting a new library on this site.

In mid-January three proposed articles for the Annual Town Meeting were given by the Library Trustees to Mr. Altman, Town Counsel, for preparation. These articles dealt with the proposed new location.

Thereafter it appears that 'someone' possibly the temporary Town Manager, informed Mr Altman that no library articles would be considered at the Annual Town Meeting. The Library Trustees did not know of this action. They discovered too late to have their articles included on the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting.

New appointments to the Library Trustees are being made by the temporary Town Manager. It appears possible that the three to one vote of last fall for an approved site will change so that the minority of one will now become a majority. It seems very strange that Mr. Melzar would describe one of the majority of three as an 'off horse' and in the minority. The efforts of the individual who was not reappointed were instrumental in moving the library program forward again after it had failed twice at Special Town Meetings.

The appointment of competent new people in our Town to committees must be encouraged. New ideas and methods to improve our community can be discovered and used in this way. Citizen participation in our form of Government is very necessary if we are to succeed.

Turning of minority of one on a committee into a majority by naming new appointments will destroy any interest in participating in community affairs.

Arson Again

Attempt to Burn the Swain House

State Fire Marshall Lynch and Chief Arthur Boudreau of the Wilmington Fire Department state that the fire at the Swain House, Sunday evening, was of 'incendiary origin'.

The fire was confined to the old woodshed, adjoining the house, by a combination of an alert passerby notifying the fire department, and fast work of the part of the Wilmington firemen.

Earl Phillips of Safford Street noticed the flames at about 9:30 p.m. He and John Hall, who lives near the Swain House, called the Fire Department. Phillips was on Lowell Street, near Lucci's, looking for a ride home when the fire started.

Other than the woodshed, the building was locked, and about 100 spectators watched the firemen, from the Lucci parking lot. Of prime interest to a few of the spectators was that antique door latches and hinges to the front door could have been damaged, as the firemen were forcing their way in.

The house dates from 1759 or earlier, and was built by John Gowing, founder of the Wilmington Public Library. It was for many years the home of Charles Swain, after he returned from the Civil War, and of his daughters, the Swain Sisters, teachers in the Wilmington Public Schools. Present ownership is with the Jackson Brothers of Wilmington.

BRIDGE GAMES AT K OF C HALL

The games will be on Tuesday night at 7:45 and Thursdays at 8. George McMenimen (658-2638) has more information.

Planning Board Views Eames Street Plans

The proposed Eames Street Industrial Development plans of the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority got its first public viewing, Tuesday night, when a preliminary sketch was presented to the members of the Wilmington Planning Board, and was discussed by the two boards and engineers for the boards.

The sketch as submitted shows a roadway about 750 feet long into the area. The total width would be 80 feet. It also showed an area around Cook Hill, about 11 acres in extent, which would be 'reserved' from construction because of outcroppings of rock from the old volcano.

About twenty acres 'in front' was designated as 'prime land' and another seven acres in the back near the hill was also considered as developable.

The Planning Board was told that the engineers were considering the possibility of extending the proposed road to nearly the Woburn line but that perhaps this would not be done, as it might take up space usable by some industry.

Also being considered was a possible widening of Eames Street, to connect with Main Street.

Three proposals were being considered for sewage disposal.

The first was an on-the-site disposal plant.

The second and the third were to connect with the sewer on Woburn Street, near the Woburn line.

The shortest route would be in a nearly straight line across the property of the National Polychemicals plant.

The alternative was to go down Eames Street to the B&M bridge, where plans have been made for a thirty inch sewer main leading towards Wilmington Square.

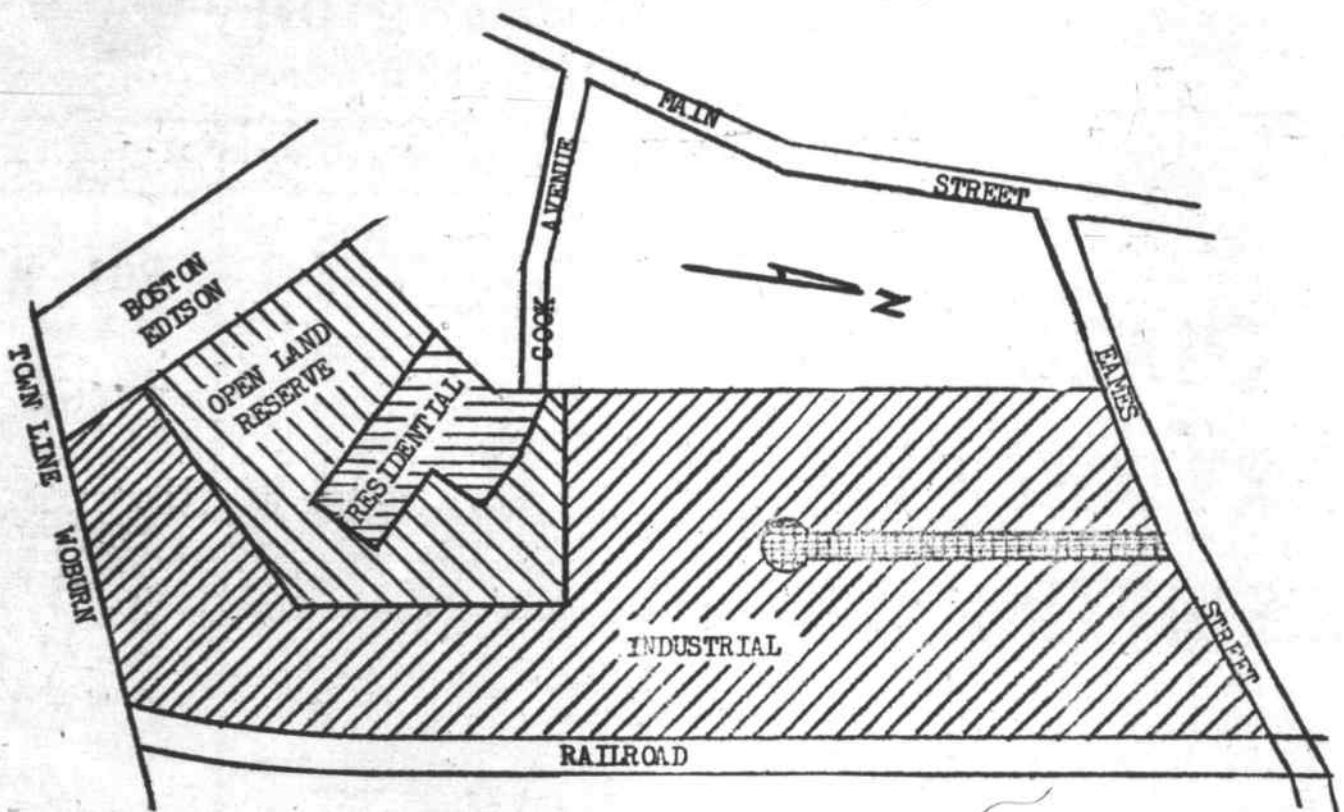

This would entail participation by the town, the Planning Board was told. The state would pay 50% of the WRA costs for the development, and a proportion of the Main Sewer.

Arthur Harding, Town Engineer, said that the Authority might be able to absorb 50% of the costs of the Main Sewer towards Wilmington, for that portion up to Eames Street. He noted that in this way the town would have its first 2000 feet of the main, 'and that would be something'.

Ken Welner of the firm of Candeb, Fleissig and Associates discussed most of the road plans. He told the Planning Board, too, that the Woburn Redevelopment Authority is considering using the abandoned (in Woburn) railroad right of way of the old Woburn Branch for a road, and that this might possibly extend to the Wilmington line.

Welner told the Planning Board that the Authority was making considerable progress, and was ahead of the other towns with similar redevelopment plans, in Massachusetts.

Bob Evans, a member of the Authority, characterized this as 'The fastest turtle in a slow race'.

PRELIMINARY
DEVELOPMENT PLAN

EAMES STREET INDUSTRIAL PARK
WILMINGTON REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

Fordham Road

The Planning Board signed the final plans for the 188 acre Wilmington Industrial Park, off Concord Street, being developed by Tambone and Barbo. The first preliminary plans had been submitted on June 13, 1966.

The road into the Industrial Park is to be known as Fordham Road.

Wildwood Estates

A public hearing was held on the proposals for a new housing development off Wildwood Street, behind the 'Veterans Housing', now privately owned. Three interested citizens were present, and William Childs of the Wilmington Conservation Commission.

A total of 15 houselots is proposed. A dotted line on the map will delineate a proposed roadway or pedway which may at some time in the future connect the Wildwood School with Parker Street, on the other side of the Maple Meadow Brook.

The road into the development will be known as Senpak Road, a ploy on the name of the developer, Mr. Kepnes. Kepnes was not present for the hearing, but was represented by an engineer, Don Martingale of Dana Perkins & Co. of Reading.

MAPC

The Planning Board spent an hour and a half discussing the implications of the Thursday (today) meeting of the Massachusetts Area Planning Council with Madelyn McKie. Mrs McKie had discussed the meeting the night previously with the Board of Selectmen.

She had with her four volumes, which she was supposed to read in four days, and be ready for the discussion. She confessed that so far she had only had time to read two of them.

The reports in the four volumes recommended that:

A. A system of incinerators, sanitary landfills, and the introduction of special facilities on a regional metropolitan basis, is the type of system which will bring about the construction and operation of the appropriate facilities for disposal of solid wastes, at the least cost to all communities involved.

B. A system of nine large regional incinerators and eight or more sanitary landfill operations are required. Some of these facilities are needed now.

C. The Metropolitan District Commission should be the agency to be authorized and directed to design, construct, operate and administer over the regional waste disposal system.

D. A Metropolitan District Commission Solid Waste Disposal Advisory Board, composed of the chief executive officers of the metropolitan communities, should be established to approve the solid waste disposal development program (including the expenditure of funds) before any construction or expenditures are initiated.

E. The system of facilities would be designed and from time to time redesigned to serve only those communities that wish to use the regional service.

F. Those communities that use the regional facilities would be assessed for cost in proportion to the tonnage disposed from each community.

G. A total of $59 million should be authorized for expenditure over the first 10 years. This amount should be reduced by any State aid that is recommended to be made available and Federal funds.

The Planning Board did not get a real opportunity to study the proposals.

Mr Gillis said, for his part, that it was asking too much of the Planning Boards and Boards of Selectmen to present this too quickly. He thought that the Planning Boards and Selectmen should have, say, six months to mull over the implications.

Mrs McKie told the board that Wilmington, as a member of the MAPC would have to conform to the MAPC plans or it would fail to qualify for Federal funds. 'They get their funds from HUD and various foundations'.

Stickney was interested in costs. Mrs McKie could not tell him. He read in one of the volumes that from nine towns in this part of Middlesex County the MAPC was figuring on 167,000 tons of solid wastes. 'Are they requiring you to vote as a representative of the town?'

Mrs McKie: To accept the general policies. She added that this was proposed legislation that had not yet been submitted to the Gen-

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, got around to a definition of what type of stadium they would like to see in Wilmington. Several weeks ago when Monte Green spoke in the High School, Chairman Jim Miceli stood up to say that the Board of Selectmen were unanimously behind the stadium.

Monday night, at the end of the Selectmen's meeting Mrs Madelyn McKie, Planning Board member and Wilmington Representative for the Massachusetts Area Planning Council asked the Selectmen several questions about the stand she should take in the Thursday meeting of MAPC.

Her first question was to a proposed Waste Disposal plan, (Incinerators), for which she had just received information. With Wilmington being a part of the MAPC the lady wanted to know how she should vote on such a project.

Selectman Niles said that Wilmington was a part of the district but that the Selectmen should discourage any incinerator being placed in Wilmington, a statement to which TM Melzar agreed.

Selectman Boylen thought that the question should be turned over to the Board of Water & Sewer Commissioners. Mrs McKie told him the questions were beyond the scope of that board.

Niles said that personally he was 'against'. Boylen and Miceli concurred.

Mrs McKie then said that the Greater Boston Stadium (Weston) would undoubtedly be discussed, and wondered if she could get the 'feeling of the board'. 'I will be the only person from Wilmington.'

Miceli spoke up to say that he personally was in favor of a Wilmington stadium, and that a year ago the town had voted unanimously to rezone for a stadium.

Mrs McKie protested that she had no official statement from any Wilmington official or board.

Miceli: Well, I have contacted Senator Ron MacKenzie.

Mrs McKie: No town official? There was a slight pause, and then Niles spoke.

A privately built, privately operated, taxable stadium - I am in favor. He accented the word taxable. 'By the state - No!'

The Selectmen unanimously endorsed Niles' statement.

Gas Stations

The greater part of the Selectmen's meeting was taken up with hearings on two gas stations. One, on Lowell Street, proposed by the Humble Oil Company, would be at the corner of Bay Street (opposite Avco). The other gas station was one that John Elia proposed to build at the site of his store, on Middlesex Avenue, for the Mobil company.

The outcome of the two hearings was a three to two vote to turn down the Elia proposal, and an unanimous vote to turn down the Lowell Street proposal.

Mrs Drew and Charles Black voted in favor of the Elia proposal which was to allow a larger gas tank capacity than the license now allows (2000 gallons). Miceli, Niles and Boylen voted against. Miceli's eyebrow's were seen to raise when Niles voted No, and Mrs Drew spoke up to say, presumably to Boylen, saying in effect: 'You're crazy - you know he can use us'.

Just prior to the vote the Selectmen had been talking with A Daniel Gillis, chairman of the Planning Board about a Traffic Study proposed under Federal 701 funds.

Gillis had told the board that it would be finished in about a year, and Niles observed that neither of the stations should get the licenses they asked for until the survey had been completed.

When Atty Roland Wood, who represented Elia protested that this might mean that the wait would be beyond the three year period that had been given to Elia, Niles calmly said that the Selectmen could extend that period, if they wished.

Wood requested, after the vote, statements from the selectmen. He said he intended to take the case to the Superior Court.

The Hearings

The first hearing, that of the Humble Oil Co., started at 8:15 and lasted about twenty minutes. Atty Joseph F Courtney, who represented Humble, presented, as he always does, a written brief before he began the oral part of his presentation.

Courtney had several abutments present, who were in favor of the proposed gas station, one of them being Wilson Belbin, of the Odd Fellows, who have their lodge hall nearby.

Courtney told the Selectmen that there would be a two hundred foot frontage to the station, that the land extends back two hundred feet, and that part of the back could be sued, if necessary, for parking.

He had a traffic study, on Rte 129 and Rte 93, and said that in front of the proposed station there were about 4500 cars a day. 80% of these, Courtney said, were from out of town, and he argued that the proposed gas station would not hurt any local station. The operator, he said, would be a local man now operating another gas station in town.

Courtney also had figures from a study by the Boston Globe which showed that Wilmington, according to Courtney, was below a median on gas stations to population ratio.

He told the Selectmen he would be happy to accept any provisions the board might make.

Elia's Hearing

The hearing for increased storage capacity at Elia's had attracted a large number of neighbors, and consequently was held in the main part of the Town Hall. About 40 spectators were present.

The crowd seemed to enjoy the proceedings.

Atty. Wood represented Olga Elia, the owner of record. He emphasized that this was only a hearing for increased storage capacity of tanks, about the 2000 gallon license now held by the property.

The license, he said, dated back to 1936, and on August 23, 1965 Elia had been given by the Selectmen a stipulation that he had three years to make a decision on whether he was going to have a gas station or a store. There was to be, at the end of the three years, no 'pocket license' Wood told the board, by that decision.

Elia, he said, was having the presentation made because of that decision.

A large picture was displayed of the proposed station. Wood pointed out that the present store has no sidewalk in front of it, and that in several ways it does not conform to modern facilities.

When the gas station was built there would be a nice sidewalk, with granite curbs. The building would be set back from the street 60 or 70 feet. There would be a twenty year lease to the Mobil company.

Only two issues were involved according to Wood. The first was a 'proper approach' to the gas station, and the second the increased capacity of the storage tanks.

Wood characterized the Selectmen's vote of August 23, 1965 as a 'Put Up or Shut Up' proposition to Elia, and told them that Elia was 'Putting Up'. He finished his presentation at 8:52, having spoken just a little short of 15 minutes.

A petition, signed by about 50 persons, was presented to the Selectmen by James Winston. It was said to protest a 'cluster of gas stations' within 500 feet of a school.

When somebody said 'another gas station' Wood protested that this was not so, and that there had been a license for a gas station on the site for years.

SELECTMEN (Fr. Pg. 3)

is Policy in relation to gas stations in Wilmington?

He told the hearing that gas stations were being allowed, first in one area, and then somewhere else, and eventually Wilmington will find itself in a much worse condition. Main Street, he said, was 'Gasoline Alley'.

This condition he deplored, when he said, 'Wilmington was making a name for itself in the state, in residential zoning, signs, etc.'

Gillis told the hearing that the Planning Board was about to start a traffic study, under the auspices of a Federal grant.

Pointing to the three gas stations in North Wilmington, existing or proposed, Gillis went on to say that when the new industrial development was starting off Concord Street the town could expect applications for gas stations there, and down on Woburn Street, and up near the proposed stadium.

'Is it possible,' he asked, 'To have a moratorium on all gas stations until the survey is completed?'

Wood protested that Gillis had sat in the hearing for the Lowell Street station for 15 minutes without saying a word, after Gillis had concluded. Gillis tried to speak again, but could not get the chair's attention.

Ella: This is not the third, nor the second, but the first gas station in North Wilmington.

Ella went on to say that he was 'definitely' going to build his gas station, and going to comply with the vote of the Selectmen 'whether or not I have to haul in gasoline every other day!'

Mrs. McKie spoke up to say that the statement by Gillis was 'applicable to both hearings'.

Wood summed up by saying that 'There was no opposition to the 1965 hearing - why now?'

The construction of the gas station, he said, would eliminate a serious problem. The new service station would decrease danger to children in North Wilmington.

The only issue, Wood said, was whether or not the Selectmen were satisfied with the plot plan he had submitted, and 'are you satisfied with the application to increase gallonage?'

The Selectmen returned to their meeting room, where the events first reported then took place.

New Business

Under New Business, which rapidly followed the votes against the gasoline stations, Niles spoke to say that New Hampshire cars were 'breaking away' from the traffic line in front of the High School in the morning, when the Traffic Supervisors had to halt traffic.

and using the forbidden zone on Middlesex Avenue, in front of the Swain and Center Schools instead.

Melzar was told to look into it. Niles then spoke of the previous discussions concerning the road-way into the West Intermediate School.

Melzar told the Selectmen that the Town Engineer had explored the records. Carter Lane had been accepted for 1360 feet, but not paved for the entire area because the paving went, when laid, to the last house. Since then the school had been built, and paving had been laid to the end of the school property. There was no private land involved, Melzar assured the board.

Library Wrangle

Niles told the board that he had had a telephone call over the weekend that Christian Bachman, of the Board of Library Trustees, had not been reappointed. He recognized the authority of the Town Manager, but he would like an explanation.

Miceli interrupted to say that the appointment was solely in the jurisdiction of the Town Manager.

Niles: I would like to know. Mr. Bachman was particularly energetic. This is something that should be aired publicly.

Boylan: This is how you lose Town Managers, Mr. Niles.

Niles: The Town Manager, in his letter, said 'no plans and policies' and I think -

Melzar: The facts speak for themselves. Three to three vote for a year or more. He has been the 'Off Horse'.

Niles: Want to discuss that publicly?

Melzar: No.

Boylan moved that the meeting be adjourned.

The meeting started to break up but Madelon McKie spoke up to say that she wanted to discuss the MAPC situation, and the meeting was resumed.

After Mrs. McKie had finished Bill Butt, president of the Rotary Club was given permission for a Rotary Carnival, on land at the intersection of Routes 129 and 38, during the week of April 19. The meeting then adjourned. It was 9:39 pm.

Deaths

LUTHER CARTER WAS A MECHANICAL GENIUS

Luther S. Carter, husband of the late M. Blanche (Whitchurch) Carter, of Wilmington, died at the Tewksbury Hospital on March 25th after a long illness.

A native of Wilmington, and a member of an old Wilmington family, he was the son of the late Walter D. and Mary (Boyce) Carter. He had been a lifelong resident, and was 73 years old when he died.

Mr. Carter was one of the first men in Wilmington to be interested in automobiles, and was for many years the owner of Carter's Garage on Main Street. He was an outstanding mechanic, whose services were used by the General Electric Company, in Lynn, in Research. He retired from General Electric a few years ago.

Mr. Carter was the father of the late Luther Arnold Carter of Wilmington, and is survived by his six grandchildren, Kenneth, Richard, Gary, Robert, Donna and Diane Carter, all of Wilmington.

Funeral services were held at the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street on March 28th at 1 pm with the Rev. H. Allen Taddell, Jr., of the Wilmington Congregational Church officiating. Burial followed in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Taddell read the committal prayers.

CHARLOTTE WANDELL WAS 25 YEAR RESIDENT

Charlotte M. (Clague) Wandell, wife of the late John W. Wandell, of 29 Marion Street, died at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn on Tuesday, March 28, after a long illness.

Mrs. Wandell, who was born in East Boston, was 60 years old at the time of her death, and had resided in Wollaston for many years before taking up residence in Wilmington 25 years ago.

She is survived by three children, Mrs. Josephine C. Bell of York Harbor, Maine, Daniel C. Wandell, a member of the Wilmington Fire Department, and John W. Wandell of Wilmington; two brothers, Daniel Clague of East Boston and Frederick Clague of Wilmington. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at St. Anne's Episcopal Church in North Billerica on Friday March 31 at 10 A.M. with the Rev. E. Nichols officiating. Burial will take place in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Visiting hours for Mrs. Wandell will be held at the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home on Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 P.M.

SERVICES FOR JOHANNA PERRY

Funeral services for Johanna J. (Barry) Perry were held on Wednesday, March 29 at 9:15 A.M. from the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, followed by a Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Dorothy's Church, celebrated by the Rev. Father Joseph Leahy. Rev. James Darcy served as Deacon and Rev. Edward Donovan as Sub-Deacon.

Mrs. Perry, wife of the late Samuel B. Perry, of 4 Carmel Road, died at her home on Sunday, March 26. A native of Salem Mass, she was 85 years old at the time of her death. Prior to moving to Wilmington sixteen years ago, she had lived in Medford for many years.

Three children survive: Mrs. Ruth Hayward of Salem, Mrs. Dorothy Perron of Jamaica Plain and William Perry of Malden. Also surviving are 25 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in the family lot in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford, with Rev. Leahy offering the committal prayers.

Loretta Cole works in a trailer

LORETTA M COLE greets a prospective employee of the New England Telephone Company in front of her Mobile Office.

Loretta M Cole of 7 Lang Street recruitment interviewer for the New England Telephone Company has a new approach for her work. It's the 'Welcome Wagon' approach - a new Mobile employment office.

It has carpeting, leather arm chairs and pictures on the walls, and is the Telephone Company's new way of catching up with the suburban labor market.

Stationed at shopping centers for a week or two, the employment trailer principally attracts the suburban housewife, between 30 and 40 years old, who is thinking of going back to work.

'But men have also sought jobs at the trailer' says Loretta.

'People at the shopping centers have given us a tremendous reception. They like the convenience. They are more convinced that we are interested in hiring, because we have made the effort to go out to them'.

Loretta interviews between 50 and 100 people weekly at the trailer. She is in charge of the mobile office, and was specifically promoted from interviewer to group chief operator for the job.

She has been with the company since 1946, and was on loan to the company's personnel office in 1965 as an interviewer.

Her mobile office is open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday from 10 am to 6 pm, and on Thursday and Friday from 12:30 pm to 8:30 pm. It is closed on Tuesday and Sunday.

Her husband, Donald, schedules work crews for TWA, and he and their two boys, Dennis and William have often paid surprise visits to Loretta, in her mobile office.

She likes it. Every morning she sweeps and dusts, before opening her mobile office. She has also on occasion shoveled snow out from in front of the trailer.

St. Thomas CYO will announce this week its plans for the St. Thomas CYO Youth Center, to be built in the basement of Villanova Hall. Brochures have been prepared, which, it is hoped, will be mailed out this weekend.

The center will be open to any high school youngsters in Wilmington.

Construction has already started. The estimated cost will be $6000 to $7000. A group of adults are in charge, chairmaned by Paul Retchel of Mystic Avenue, and co-chairmaned by Charles Nickerson of Woburn Street. The treasurer is Leo Barry and Mrs. Doris Retchel is the secretary.

The facilities will occupy the entire basement of the hall, including the present coat rooms, rest rooms, etc.

Plans at the present time are to have the center open on Friday and Saturday nights, with perhaps more time, if it is determined to be advisable. There will always be adequate chaperonage.

The largest room is to feature space for a juke box, for dancing, etc., with tables, chairs, lounges, and a snack bar.

Another room will be devoted entirely to games; ping-pong tables, pool tables, and other games, including chess.

There will be one room set aside as a TV room, and another which will be called the 'quiet' room, reserved for reading and other activities of this nature.

A September goal for finishing the center has been set.

How did you get your Vitamin C this morning, from a grapefruit? Good. But was that grapefruit pink or white?

The color, as a matter of fact, can make a difference in your health . . . no, not whether it's from California or Florida, just the color.

It seems that the pink grapefruit is more than simply prettier, or more decorative. It's more nourishing!

Although both the pink and white contain the same amount of Vitamin C, it seems the pink supplies you with much more Vitamin A, one that is ordinarily hard to come by and which is essential to human metabolism.

So the next time you're shopping for those juicy grapefruits for your breakfast table, try to remember . . . Think Pink!

Good vitamins are beneficial to maintaining good health

This is an excellent courtroom drama that was a Broadway success a few years ago. It deals with the problems of Faith and Reason, Science and Faith. It is based on the famous 'Scopes Trial' in Tennessee in the 20's. We urge parishioners and friends to attend to encourage our young people, to get a good evening's entertainment, one which will be culturally rewarding. Finally, the proceeds are going to the Youth Center.

Gillis: As a board we are involved, but we would like to know as much as possible so that we can inform our own people - How is it going to help - how is it going to hurt?

After a long discussion the board felt that it was inclined to approve because the bill was still just in the planning stage, and had to go to the Legislature.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208 Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or 658-4865 after five. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Richard Perrault of Winston Ave is at the Winchester Hospital this week, for his first session with plastic surgery. It has been two years since the fire at the Gulf station - a long hard row for a fellow. However, now he begins with the long session of constructive surgery. He works for Fred F Cain now, and would love to hear from his friends, to keep his spirits up, I am sure.

Joe Woods, of Beacon Street, one of Wilmington's friendliest citizens, and a former selectman, is a patient in the St Johns Hospital, in Lowell. Pneumonia, I understand.

Milton Smith of Bond Road is home on a thirty day leave. His new assignment with the Air Force Communications Division will be in England, for the next three years. I have promised his mother to put him in touch with Dr. and Mrs. Trexler, who are now the proud owners of a new home (new to them) outside of London, in Well-hamgreen.

I had a letter from the Trexlers this week, and Millie had a lot to say about how much behind the times England is, but she makes it sound more relaxed than in America. They are busy trying to get some bacteriological equipment and some of the throw-aways that America uses in its research. Trex is out working in his garden but Mil says she is still trying to get warm from the winter.

Mrs Trex went to Cambridge to visit a friend and she says the names of the towns are mostly the same as in Mass. However, she thought that the New Englanders didn't know how to spell when they named the towns here. After the ride she thought it was the Englishmen who didn't know how to spell, she found that they spelled the name of a town in two or three ways, in the same place. So, she says, 'I can see the New Englander's problem'.

Okie is making big plans for a bear-hunting, fishing trip to Maine. The time is approaching fast, and I understand that they are planning to take along NO food, with the exception of one fellow, who is betting that they'll all be looking for food after the first twenty four hours. Wish they were taking girls - it sounds like a wonderful trip!

The Errand Boy Cab has been purchased from Mannie O'Brien by Marvin Russell of Main Street. We understand he even answers 2 am calls, which is something!

Helen Newhouse of Taft Road, who was a patient in the Lawrence General Hospital for quite a while is now at home recuperating. She wants to say thanks to the folks for being so good to her - cards and things, and she'd love to hear from them at home, by note, phone, or in person.

William G. Mann Sr., formerly of Roosevelt Road is now a patient in the Tewksbury Hospital. He belongs to the Masons and the Odd Fellows, I understand. Please make a note of that, boys.

Eleanor Pololan tells me that a sister has been born to Gall and Gigi Gillies, formerly of 17 Stone Street, now of Winter Park, Fla. The proud parents are Mr and Mrs Robert Gillies.

The Cadette Girl Scouts had a fine success on their paper drive last Saturday. Many thanks to all who participated. They have promised me a story on their camping trip.

-What a difference! We used to go to Cedar Hill in Waltham on ours - with the mosquitoes, and the moss in the swimming pool. Now the girls sail boats and ride horses, on the shore of Cape Cod. Have a wonderful time, Girls, you worked hard for it.

We are told that Mike Kasabuski and Billy Hennessey, both on active duty with the Naval Reserve, have been transferred to Norfolk, Va., from Newport, R.I. They have been assigned to an Attack Cargo Ship, which, I understand, carries large quantities of material and equipment needed to launch an attack. They are 'combat loaded' with supplies, plus a limited number of troops, and everything is delivered to the beach using the ship's own landing craft. It looks as though these boys are in for some action. Good luck, Mike and Billy, and let us hear from you!

I want to take the opportunity to tell you folks how grateful the boys are for your concern - your news items fascinate them, and your reading material is appreciated. They write and tell me so. Don't forget, reading material now goes to the VFW, on Main Street, between six and eleven, any night.

The VFW comrades, incidently, have laid a new maple floor in their upstairs meeting room. It isn't finished yet, - they still have to sandpaper, and fill, and wax, or whatever they are going to do with it - but it's some floor! If someone should invite you in for a look, don't miss it.

The time you people take to send out cards to townspeople who are hospitalized or shut in is deeply and sincerely appreciated. It showed particularly in the response you made to Ariel Wood, up in Sanford, Maine, who was a resident here for years and years. Ariel is now on the road to recovery, and loves getting those cards. Thanks for your help - it brings some of that sunshine that I endeavor to bring out each week.

The Commission on Missions at the Methodist Church will have a Family Night Supper and Program next Sunday at 6 pm. The Rev. Oscar Guinn is to speak on his experiences in China, and also on the Casa Materna Orphanage, in Italy.

Rev. Miller told me a little of its background, after church, last Sunday, and it was absolutely fascinating - how it grew - the founder picked up orphans after World War II who were homeless and hungry, and now the second generation, one a doctor, one a lawyer, and a minister, are following in their father's footsteps. A tremendous story for anyone, be he Catholic, Protestant, Jewish or Mohammedan.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 56 will be conducting a paper drive Saturday. Drop them off at the Congregational Church, or call Larry Daniell for pickups at 658-4916. Let's get out and help the boys!

Congratulations are due to Mrs Burton Rice of Dorothy Ave, for her luncheon table arrangement at the New England Spring Flower Show. She won an honorable mention for her arrangement of strillitza, ginger leaves and cronton leaves.

Dr. Jack Silvers, he is one of the Avco Biggles, of Salem Street is sporting a broken arm. Rough skiing, I understand!

And a little last word. The Chief is a little upset because I have not been getting my copy to him early enough. So - I appreciate your getting your news to me by Sunday night, if possible. Remember, 657-7141 before five, and 658-4865 after five, and if I'm not there leave a message with the gremlins . . . and I'll return your call. Thanks again for all your marvelous co-operation. NN.

One week from Friday a thundering herd will shiver the timbers of the Wilmington High School gymnasium for a couple of hours of what Johnny Most terms 'basketball battle'. The hefty herd, however, won't be the return of the 'Donkey Ball' outfit the class of '61 imported; it will be the Boston Patriots basketball team. The Pats sporting a twelve and four record, will play an exhibition against the Town League's Bedell Celtics (9 and 1) for the benefit of the Pop Warner organization. Big Larry Eisenhauer, Artie Graham, Tom Yewcic, and Joe Bellino have been the standouts for the Patriots this season. Don't wait until the last minute to get tickets or you may be shut out!

UNRESERVED

Cassius used a variation of the Ali Shuffle to knock off challenger Folley, last week. Clay's preinduction weapon was the Alitosis Shuffle. Alf's breath was so foul that Zora wisely used any attempt at a punch by the champ as an excuse to fall down.

Folley was smart to bow out when he did, so that he would have a clear head to count his haul before his handlers got to it. Killy lost one last week!

TOWN CRIER

The championship finale of the faculty tournament Friday night will be preceded by a consolation game featuring the Wilmington Teachers.

The 1967 Red Sox catching staff will be Tillman, Ryan and Gibson. Please stop laughing long enough to continue reading.

Do you think Pete Rozelle had Jimmy Hoffa jailed to prevent his efforts at unionizing pro football?

Good old Massachusetts! Where else would you find a state that would rather finance a stadium with public funds than let a private enterprise risk its green? One whose legislature votes itself a salary doubling raise and $35,000 to the Iannello Opera Lovers Inc.

The League of Women Voters are pushing for increased recreational facilities in town. Wilmington will try hard to turn a deaf ear, but I'm sure it will have a difficult time in shutting out those female sound waves.

Those two Methodist Church basketball teams finished at the top of their divisions. The boys' record was eleven and one, and the girls were undefeated in eight outings.

If the Red Sox system of baby-sitting, fatherly coaches (Popowski Lakeman, Doerr), etc., works out this year, it's a good bet the lowly Chicago Cubs will discard grisly old Lippy Durocher of Aamco fame in favor of this paternalistic assemblage of mentors: Dr. Spock, Charles Iannello, Kris Kringle, Bobby Kennedy and Ted Mack.

Do the Packers seriously think those Patriot castoffs on the Lowell Giants could make their squad?

Stoughton people, unlike Westonites, want the stadium and they've also given the okay to the hooch and the pooches.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

Radioman First Class Sidney F. Jones Jr, USN, son of Mr and Mrs Sidney F. Jones of 24 Clark St. Wilmington, is helping the U.S. Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force celebrate its 25th Anniversary this month, while serving on the staff of Commander Amphibious Group Two, aboard the attack transport USS Francis Marion (APA-249).

Established in February of 1942, the force is now 20,000 men strong and operates 60 ships of different types.

Units of PHIBLANT successfully spearheaded every major allied amphibious invasion in North Africa and Europe during World War II.

The Force's 25 years in existence reflect a history of military preparedness and humanitarian relief in many lands bordering on the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean and Mediterranean Seas. It has won praise time and again for contributions to peace and its important part in proving that the Amphibious Force is indeed a 'Vanguard in Peace and a Spearhead in War'.

NORTH WILMINGTON CENTER

An article in the Boston Globe, on March 26th (Page 36 A) tells of some of the old Communion Silver, in New England, and deals particularly with the Communion Silver to be found in the Old South Church, in Boston. One paragraph in the story tells of Jeremiah Dummer of Newbury, the first native born silversmith of Massachusetts, whose son, William Dummer, was later one of the governors of Massachusetts, in the Colonial days, and who willed his farm to be a boys' school, now Dummer Academy.

This paragraph may possibly be of significance, in connection with the Communion Set of the Rev. Isaac Morrill of Wilmington.

The Rev. Mr. Morrill was the second minister of the Congregational Church, then, as now, the Church of Christ in Wilmington. He was a native of Newbury, and became the pastor of the Wilmington church on his twenty-third birthday, May 20, 1741. He served as pastor of the church for 53 years and lies buried under the brick tomb, near the Town Hall.

A brother of William Dummer,

Samuel Dummer, was a resident of Wilmington, living in a house which stood northeast of the home of Dr. Charles E. Rounds, at the corner of Salem Street and Woburn Street. Samuel Dummer was one of the principal inhabitants of the town at its founding in 1730, and served as Moderator at the first town meeting. He owned the pew which was just beneath the pulpit, in the first church building, built in 1732. He did not live to see the Rev. Mr. Morrill, a townsman of his from Newbury, installed as the pastor, for Dummer died in 1739.

The Rev. Mr. Morrill was an ardent patriot, and served as Chaplain in Chief to the Massachusetts forces in the siege of Ticonderoga, in the French and Indian War of 1755-62. The siege lasted all winter, and Lt. Jones of Andover Street and a number of men under his command were among those who lost their lives in that siege. Lt. Jones' home stood where the present Daily home now stands (not the same building).

When Rev. Morrill returned from his service with the Massachusetts troops, he caused the silver pay he had received to be melted down and made into a communion set for use in his church.

No one knows where that silver communion set is today. Mrs. Arthur A. Simmons, wife of the minister in 1930, said she believed it was in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, or in the Massachusetts Historical Society. Someday, someone from Wilmington will have the time to go to those two places and ask questions.

But, because of the story in the Boston Globe, there is another question as to the Parson's Communion Silver.

When he had the set made, did he go to someone who was still carrying on the business of Jeremiah Dummer, from his old home town of Newbury?

It is entirely possible. Some day the exact whereabouts of the Silver Communion Set may be determined. And when that happens, the finder could also check the 'Makers Marks'.

Did the Rev. Mr. Morrill have his Communion Set made by a Dummer, from his home town of Newbury?

'Inherit The Wind'

Tomorrow and Saturday evenings, in the Barrows Auditorium of the High School the dramatic Broadway play 'Inherit the Wind' is to be presented by the CYO of St Thomas Church.

It is the story of Thomas Scopes, the biology teacher who was tried by the State of Tennessee for the teaching of evolution, in defiance of state laws. What took place in the small steaming court room had a profound effect on the relationships between Religion and Science.

Standards now accepted as routine were brought violently to the surface by two great lawyers, William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow. The lessons learned are still vital to modern lives.

This is probably the first time that a student organization has attempted to present a dramatic play of this scope in Wilmington.

The Director is Robert Hamilton, High School head of the English Department, and the young people in the St Thomas CYO are doing admirably in handling a difficult assignment.

Tickets are 99 cents for adults and 50 cents for students, and the entire proceeds is for the new CYO Center, now being built in Villanova Hall.
